7. With whom does Doccle share your Personal Data?

Processors.

7.1 Your Personal Data will never be passed on to third parties within or outside the EEA unless this is required or permitted by law.

However, Doccle does use certain trusted third parties and their services to help us provide, improve, protect and promote our Services. These trusted third parties will have access to some of your Personal Data.

For example, Doccle uses the following categories of third parties:

- IT services;
- Software suppliers;
- Advertising and communication services;
- Event management;
- Accounting, tax or legal advisers;
- Customer management;
- Payment services.

7.2 Doccle will always conclude a processing agreement with these third parties. They hereby guarantee to take the necessary technical and organizational measures to protect your Personal Data and to process it only in accordance with this privacy policy.

Other End Users and Third Parties

7.3 Doccle offers the option of making your personal documents automatically available to one or more other End Users (for example your partner or your accountant) by sharing a Connection or specific documents.

Doccle will only ever share a Connection or personal documents with other users based on your permission.

Our Partners

7.4 Doccle shares your personal data with our Partners in specific contexts such as support, inquiries or incident management. This sharing only occurs when there is a clear and relevant connection between you and that partner, e.g. you are a customer, member or user of their services.

We do not share your personal data with Partners when no direct or justified relationship exist.

8. How long is your Personal Data retained?

8.1 Doccle will not store your Personal Data longer than necessary for the realization of the processing purposes, unless we are legally or judicially obliged to keep it for a longer period. The retention period depends on the nature of Personal Data, the processing ground and how you configure certain settings in your Account.

8.2 Personal data collected for purposes related to the Doccle Service will be kept at least until our service has ended. After implementation, we may be obliged to keep your Personal Data for longer if this is required to comply with the laws and regulations applicable to the service. This includes, for example, legitimate business or legal purposes, such as security, fraud and abuse prevention or financial administration.

Some Personal Data, such as your Identification Data or the Content you create or upload (such as documents), can be modified or deleted at any time. We keep this information in your Account until you delete it or choose to have it deleted.

Personal data collected for sending newsletters will be kept as long as you remain registered for these newsletters and use our services.

8.3 If the retention period has expired, the Personal Data will be deleted and destroyed within a reasonable period of time.

9. Security and safety of your Personal Data

Technical and organizational measures

9.1 Doccle applies strict standards to protect the Personal Data under its responsibility against unauthorized or unlawful processing or access and against accidental loss, destruction or damage. Doccle therefore takes state-of-the-art technical and organizational measures to prevent and detect inappropriate access, loss or disclosure of your Personal Data:

- The content of the documents is never visible to Doccle employees or their Partners.
- All our communication is highly secured.
- All accesses to data have multi-layer security.
- All administrative actions by employees at Doccle and the companies and organizations that share documents via Doccle are provided with multi-factor authentication.
- We regularly review our data collection, storage and processing practices, including physical security measures such as protection against unauthorized access to systems.
- We regularly review and update our methods to avoid data loss.
- Doccle employees who have access to your Personal Data are subject to strict contractual confidentiality obligations and are regularly reviewed.

Doccle is subjected to a strict ISO 27001 and ISO 9001 audit every year, which checks the above and other measures.

9.2 In the event that your Personal Data for which Doccle is responsible is compromised, we will immediately act in accordance with the applicable regulations and take action via adequate remedial measures. If necessary, Doccle will inform the necessary authorities and you of this incident.

9.3 In addition to the GDPR and the previously mentioned ISO standards, Doccle also complies to other applicable regulations, legislations and standards concerning the protection of your Personal Data. Doccle has set up a Compliance Centre that acts as an internal supervisory body, charged with closely monitoring, following up and implementing relevant laws and standards regarding data protection, cyber security and other related aspects. In addition, it will also perform internal audits to ensure that all operational processes and procedures comply with applicable regulation and uphold the highest standards of quality and integrity.

Phishing

Increasingly, internet criminals try to trick people directly into handing over personal information.

We will never request personal information by e-mail or ask by telephone to disclose your login details. We only use email to provide you with information about documents on Doccle, or to inform you about novelties.

10. What are your rights when processing your Personal Data?

You can always contact us to exercise the following rights:

- Access to and inspection of your Personal Data and all information regarding their processing.
- Deletion of your Personal Data.
- Restriction of the processing of your Personal Data.
- Object to all or certain purposes in order for us to stop processing for this purpose.
- Withdrawal of your consent, however this does not affect the lawfulness of processing based on your consent before its withdrawal.
- Transfer of your Personal Data.

Doccle will always facilitate the exercise of your rights, taking into account the legal possibilities and limits in this regard.

You will be informed within one month at the latest of what action will be taken on your request. In the case of complex or frequent requests, this period may be extended by a further two months, of which you will be notified.

You can exercise your rights by sending a request via e-mail to privacy@doccle.be or privacy@doccle.nl.

It is always possible to submit a complaint to your national data protection authority.

Doccle BE: GBA by post at Drukpersstraat 35, 1000 Brussels, by e-mail at contact@apd-gba.be or via the website www.dataprotectionauthority.be.
